FREE TRADERS IN A NEW LIGHT.

An effort is being made by the Council of the "American Copyright League," to secure the enactment of a law which will protect the publications of American authors in England. Of course, when James Russell Lowell, or George William Curtis, or Charles Dudley Warner, has any book to sell in England, he doesn't want free trade. He wants free trade on everything he is compelled to buy, but protection on the product of his brain.

There are several copyright bills before congress. Most of them are in the interest of syndicates. They have been introduced for the purpose of furthering the interests of certain trusts, and according to the Washington correspondent of the Inter Ocean there is some danger of one of the bills passing. As has been said, the bills were introduced at the suggestion of the American copyright league, and nearly all the members of that body are free traders, and Mr. Curtis is the chief mover in the matter.

Some of the league are fortunate enough to be the author of a few books that sell in England, and it is the sale of these books which they wish to protect. The Inter Ocean makes a sensible comment on the subject of international copyright:—

Under our present refusal to allow copyright on foreign books our country has become the greatest market in the world for the standard works—that is, the best of English books and English versions of the best works in other languages, dead or living. The trashy novels and machine poetry, of the making of which there is no end, are largely crowded out by the very cheapness of really classic literature. This may be hard on the Bellamys and Bowkers of our own country, but it is a great thing for the people. The yellow-covered trash which used to cover the land like a flood, and which brought the term "dime novel" into such disrepute, has been largely driven from the market by really first-class books which are quite as cheap. The millions of English reprints sold in this country are doing incalculable good. Put a royalty on them and their sale will be restricted to the few. They will cease to be within the reach of all, and and a decline in the intellectual life of our people will be inevitable.

It has been shown that either one of bills before congress would be unfair in its operation for this reason that "where one American book is sold abroad a thousand foreign books are sold in this country. This may at first seem an exaggeration, but it is not. With rare exceptions no American author has a foreign constituency. While English authors are more widely read here than they are in their own land, it follows that an international copyright, fair on its face, would prove in actual operation a veritable jug-handle."

It has been said by those well acquainted with the book trade of England that all calculations made in regard to the sale of books in that country, are based on the public libraries, and that there are fully ten times more English works sold in this country than England, for the reason that here everybody buys because they can buy good books cheap, while in England, as the publishers in London testify, the sales of any books are comparatively limited.

So the effect of an international copyright would accomplish two things—first it would protect the sale of a few American books in England; and make the American people pay a big price for all new foreign books reprinted in this country.

HE WILL BE HARD TO FIND.

One of the many questions which puzzles the Wisconsin democrats, is, or will be soon, "Who shall run for governor?" A discovery of the right kind of a man would be a boon for the democrats of this state, for they have always had hard luck in selecting suitable candidates. The Cedarburg News, edited by that well-known German-American—Captain Fred Horn—throws out some suggestions: "There are two gentlemen in the state who were nominated once before and who are each in a position, unlike Judge Jenkins, who also was once at the head of the ticket, where a nomination might be acceptable to either of them. We refer to Messrs. Fratt, of Racine, and Judge Mallory, of Milwaukee. We think that either of these gentlemen, if nominated, could easily be elected. We are feeling around for a winning candidate. John Winans is not bad and his little temperance outlets may be overlooked as a local performance if he is sound on other questions, notably on the repeal of Sec. 5 of the Bennett law."

It is not likely that either Judge Mallory or Mr. Fratt will desire to run again. In 1877 Judge Mallory ran for governor on the Fond du Lac platform against Governor Smith, and was badly beaten. And in 1881, Mr. Fratt, of Racine, one of the squarest democrats in the state, was put against Governor Rusk, and he too suffered defeat, the plurality against him being 12,000. The democrats not being satisfied with that result, and Mr. Fratt thinking he ran under somewhat unfavorable circumstances, he was again renominated in 1884—the year Mr. Vilas promised Mr. Cleveland that he would hand the vote of Wisconsin to him on a golden platter—and again Mr. Fratt was defeated, but this time by a plurality of nearly 20,000.

If Captain Hom thinks that Mr. Winans will be a candidate for governor in a democratic contest against the Bennett law, he is misjudging that gentleman's political shrewdness. No democrat in Wisconsin can be found who will take a nomination for governor just for the fun of running. Mallory, Fratt, Jenkins, Woodward and Morgan have had experiences from which they may profit.

That wonderful scientific and linguistic scholar—Miss Amelia B. Edwards, of England, is delivering a series of lectures in this country, and is in Chicago this week. It has already been stated in the Gazette that it is the judgment of scholars both in England and in this country that Miss Edwards is the best educated woman in the world. She is a famous Egyptologist, her learning in that special direction not being matched by any man living, and she even surpasses the late Thomas Young. But this wonderful woman has not confined all her studies to Egyptian art. She is a splendid mathematician, a fine linguist, is uncommonly well informed in astronomy, and in fact her studies have embraced the entire circle of human knowledge. Her lectures are both scholarly and popular and in New York and Chicago she attracts vast audiences of cultured people.

The Iowa assembly has finally been organized after five weeks and a half of foolish wrangling. A compromise was made, and a democratic speaker was elected, the republicans taking some other of the offices. It will be difficult for the members to make a satisfactory explanation of their course.

Funeral of Hiram Sawtelle.

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 20.—The remains of Hiram F. Sawtelle, after brief funeral services at the late residence of the deceased, were taken to Forest Hill cemetery and placed in the receiving tomb, where they will await any possible action of the authorities that may be necessary, before the final interment.

Inspired by the Devil.

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Feb. 20.—While Albert McConnel, a dangerous lunatic, was at a religious meeting in Needham last night, he drew a revolver and attempted to shoot the preacher, saying he had an inspiration from the devil to do the act. He has been placed in jail for safe keeping.

The Fire Record.

SOUTH AMBOY, N. J., Feb. 20.—Half a block of buildings were burned this morning. Loss $70,000, insurance one half.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 19.—A four-story business block was burned, involving a loss of $150,000.

Aimed at Chicago Dressed Beef.

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 20.—The bill providing for the inspection of fresh meat slaughtered over one hundred miles from the State has been approved by the Governor.

A CURE FOR HICCOUGHS.

Some Effects of the Pungent Oder of Musk.

Most people take it for granted that because musk is sold in what is called a pod, therefore it is a vegetable product. But the truth is it is entirely an animal product, being a substance found in a two or three-inch sac in the body of the little musk-deer of Asia. This sac, when tied up and dried, goes by the name of a pod among the hunters who bring it into market.

Probably there are few things subject to such adulteration, as one part of pure musk will scent thousands of parts of some other powder mingled with it; and as the pod sells for from $15 to $20 apiece, the adulteration has its profits.

It is, indeed, so pungent that when just fresh it has been known to produce violent bleeding at the nose, and people are so susceptible to it as to have sad headaches brought about by contact with the pure article; and while a suspicion of it is very agreeable to many persons, one atom becomes offensive, as the case is with patchouli and many other odorous substances.

It was formerly largely used in therapeutics, especially in the Orient, having become disused as much from the difficulty of obtaining it in a pure state as from anything else, and is now seldom given, except for hysteria and hiccough.

Mountain of Clam Shells.

A mountain of clam shells has been discovered about three miles east of Mount Vernon, Va. It is over six hundred feet high and has a surface of soil nearly a foot thick. Underneath this clam shells abound to the level depth. There are trees growing on the mountain which show an age, judging by the rings about the heart, of from 150 to 200 years.

Money in a Tree's Heart.

Oscar Tuttle, of Santa Cruz, Cal., was splitting kindling wood when he tackled a large piece of redwood. He found a 5-cent piece of 1850 lodged in the center of the limb. It was blackened by the sap.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is a purely vegetable compound, innocent in nature and wonderful in effect. For children it is invaluable, curing croup, whooping cough, etc., in a few hours. Price 25 cents.

Mr. W. R. Graves, of Wetheredville, Md., writes:—I suffer sometimes with acute rheumatism, and your Salvation Oil gives me instantaneous relief. I cordially recommend it as a cure.

TOBACCO MEN ORGANIZE.

The Center Meeting a Success—A County Convention Called.

The call for a tobacco grower's meeting last Saturday was heartily responded to by at least one hundred and fifty of the solid growers of Center and vicinity and the prevailing opinion was that unless this industry could be protected and made to yield a more remunerative price, the farmer must turn his attention to other crops. The following resolutions were offered and discussed and finally passed:—

WHEREAS, The farming population at present is suffering from the effects of a depressed market, and from the present index of the times, there is but one remedy, namely: Organization.

Resolved, That were the tobacco growers of Rock county associated into a corporation for the purpose of fostering every legitimate means to place their goods in the best possible shape, on the best markets of the world, it would save to the producers of Rock county millions of dollars annually.

Resolved further, That such an organization can be perfected only by a united effort of a majority of all directly interested.

Resolved, That it is the wish of this meeting that the chair appoint committees of two individuals to visit the various townships in Rock county for the purpose of uniting the said townships into a county organization.

Resolved, That the secretary be instructed to issue a call for the tobacco growers to assemble at the county seat Feb. 27th inst., at one o'clock p. m., for the avowed purpose of perfecting a county organization.

KELLY IS NOT SIMONDS

The Detectives Fail to Connect Their Prisoner with the White Horse.

THAT CRONIN SUSPECT NOT THE THEY TOOK HIM FOR.

Chicago Witnesses Fail to Identify the St. Louis Prisoner—Crimes and Criminals.

CHICAO, Feb. 20.—J. B. Kelly, the man arrested in St. Louis Monday evening on suspicion of being the one who drove Dr. Cronin to the place of his butchery on the evening of May 4 last, was brought to Chicago last evening over the Alton road, and shortly after his arrival here Mrs. Conklin and Frank Scanlan, the last two friends of Dr. Cronin to see him alive and who witnessed his departure from his office on the evening of his death, were called in to see him.

They spent half an hour in the private office of Chief Marsh with him, had an opportunity of conversing with him and subjecting him to the closest scrutiny. They not only failed to identify him as the person wanted, but were positive in the opinion that he is not the person who drove the white horse on the occasion referred to. Both were of the opinion that he bears a very striking resemblance to the man wanted, but both agree that there are vital points of difference and that the prisoner is an older, taller and stouter man than the one wanted.

When the prisoner was sent to his cell for the night there were grounds for believing that, though Kelly may not be J. B. Simonds or the man who drove the white horse, yet still he is concerned in some way or other with the Cronin tragedy, and that the officers have testimony against him which, when he is confronted with it, may lead him to make a clean breast of it, and tell all he knows of Dr. Cronin's murder. It was evident upon the surface of things late last evening that the police authorities knew more than they had divulged, and that, notwithstanding the failure to identify Kelly as Simonds, they are not by any means through with him yet.

SHOT BY A BOOK-MAKER.

A Chicago Hackman Wounded by a Well-Known Southern Horseman.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—Daniel Downey, a hack driver well known to all local cab and hack men, was probably fatally shot by Han Murphy, the bookmaker, this morning.

Murphy, who is here from Tennessee on a visit, came out of Hogan's saloon at 340 State street about 8 o'clock. With him were Joe Ullman and Charley Thomas, the wealthy Chicago bookmakers, and familiar figures at the race tracks. The trio had been passing the night at the different down-town resorts and were more or less under the influence of liquor.

The three men were on their way to a carriage that was waiting for them when Downey stepped up to Murphy and said: "Wouldn't you gentlemen like to take a hack?"

Downey did not notice that another vehicle was in waiting for the men and he again requested Murphy and his friends to step into his carriage.

"Get away from me!" Murphy is alleged to have said, with an oath, and without any further provocation the book maker drew a revolver from his pocket. He placed the weapon against the hack driver's right cheek, and before the latter realized what was going on Murphy pulled the trigger.

The wounded man fell to the sidewalk, but before he reached the ground Murphy again fired, this time the ball inflicting a flesh wound in Downey's left side.

Murphy and his companions were arrested. Bystanders who witnessed the shooting say there was no provocation for it.

INCENDIARY NEGROES.

They Try to Destroy a North Carolina Town—Soldiers on Guard.

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 20.—News reaches here of serious negro incendiary troubles at Rocky Mount. It seems that the negroes have become incensed at the opposition of the whites to the negro exodus movement, and determined to avenge themselves by burning the town. On Sunday night the buildings of the Wilmington Oil company were burned to the ground. Monday night the mammoth carriage works and machine shops of Hackney Brothers, including three large buildings, were burned, entailing a loss of $15.000. Again on last night incendiaries fired the building of the Rocky Mount fair grounds in the suburbs of the town, which were entirely destroyed. Soldiers are on guard and there is danger of bloodshed.

HER SON-IN-LAW ACCUSED.

Samuel Bell Suspected of Trying to Kill Mrs. Randall.

LEBANON, Ind., Feb. 20.—Mrs. Randall, whose assassination was attempted on last Monday evening while attending a prayer meeting, is yet alive but in a very critical condition. Samuel Bell, her son-in-law, was arrested for the deed, and his preliminary trial was held before 'Squire Johnson, but the justice decided that there was not evidence sufficient to justify the holding of the accused. However, new evidence has been discovered and Bell will be arrested. Only a few weeks ago Mr. Randall was shot at by his son-in-law and narrowly escaped being killed.

IT WAS QUITE A ROW.

Result of the Inquest in the Riot at Jordan, Wis., Saturday Night.

STEVENS POINT, Wis., Feb. 20.—The coroner's official inquiry into the killing of August Kotello at Jordan Saturday night developed the fact that fully twenty persons were wounded in the affray. After hearing a large number of witnesses the coroner's jury brought in a verdict that Kotello came to his death at the hands of some person or persons unknown to them. Peter Doyle was arrested, charged with the crime, but the testimony shows that he had no knife in his possession when the fight occurred, and that of the twenty who were wounded in the affair Kotello's hurts were fatal, and Doyle was seriously wounded.

Mrs. Lippincott's Forgeries.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 20.—The conservative estimate made on the losses by stock gambling sustained by Mrs. Lippincott, the forger of Hadden Hall at Atlantic City, N. J., proves to be short of the actual amount. They will reach and probably exceed $150,000. It became known to-day that Hadden Hall, of which Mrs. Lippincott was the two-thirds owner, had been bought by Isaac W. Stokes of Medford for $66,500. The property was covered by three genuine and one forged mortgage.

Pears' soap secures a beautiful complexion.

CHURCH MEMBERS SWINDLED.

How Some of Des Moines' Pious People Were Taken In.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 20.—Frank Raymond, a quiet, unassuming man of 45 or 50 years of age, came to Des Moines from Sioux City about three weeks ago. He told of his grocery store in the latter town, which he had left in charge of his pious wife, and rented a room on Walnut street, announcing his intention to go into business here. He told a plausible story about the goodness of his wife, attended all the church sociables, and associated himself with the members of several churches.

He went to one man and purchased a horse for $125, to be paid for after the arrival of his goods from Sioux City: to another and negotiated for and secured a set of harness valued at $25 and sundries worth $15; to still another and bought a $75 buggy; and to a rival concern which sold him a $135 phaeton. He contracted numerous other bills, all on the strength of his honest countenance, and now he is gone no one knows whither.

A Warrant for Vail's Arrest.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 20.—A warrant was sworn out at St. Charles, Mo., for the arrest of Charles Vail on the charge of murdering his wife. It is said that Vail was taken into custody in this city last night. The murdered woman's relatives charge Vail with horrible and inhuman conduct toward his wife. An instance is related of how Mrs. Vail's life was once imperiled on an occasion when she was out buggy riding with her husband. He is said to have jumped out of the vehicle, leaving her inside, and is declared to have beaten the animal without having tied it or securing the reins. It is stated that on that very day he had taken out an accident policy on his wife's life.

They Stole a Class President.

ITHACA, N. Y., Feb. 20.—The class president of the Cornell freshmen, E. P. Chopin, was called to the door of his room last night, when he was seized by a number of lusty sophomores and hurried into a hack that was in waiting and rapidly driven away. His fellow-classmen, who learned of the kidnapping, were unable to overtake the hack. It is the result of a plot to prevent a class banquet. Chapin is believed to be confined in some deserted house in the country. The searching freshmen are armed, and if they succeed in finding the prisoner and his captors there may be trouble.

Wife Murder and Suicide.

HYATTSVILLE, Md., Feb. 20.—Thomas Lee assaulted and fatally injured his wife yesterday noon at Bladensburg and then committed suicide. The couple had been living apart for the past two months. Lee went to where his wife was employed and besought her to return to him. She refused, whereupon Lee picked up a pot of boiling water and scalded her badly. Then he gashed her throat with a knife, inflicting what will probably prove fatal injuries. Immediately afterward Lee cut his own throat from ear to ear.

THE IOWA DEADLOCK BROKEN.

Organization of the House After Five Weeks of Balloting.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb 20.—The deadlock is broken and the Iowa Legislature now formally organized. The Republicans offered to give the Democrats the Speaker and assistant clerk and a few pages and doorkeepers, a total of fifteen positions. They wanted to keep all of the other important offices, a total of thirty-six, and to select the first five committees and have an equal number of what was left. The Democrats demanded that the proposition be modified. The Republicans refused and the Democrats finally accepted the terms offered. The Republicans will probably take the judiciary, ways and means, legislative apportionment, appropriations and suppression of intemperance committees. Then they are to have half of the remaining committees, choosing alternately with the Democrats.

After the conference committees of the two parties had agreed the House met and unanimously elected John T. Hamilton, of Cedar Rapids, Speaker, and other officers in accordance with the compact.

The deadlock began five weeks ago last Monday and is the longest of its kind in thirty years. The subject of the inauguration is already being discussed, and it is thought that it will take place next Wednesday.

Will Be Drawn By a Rope a Mile Long.

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 20.—It is proposed when the statue of Gen. Robert E. Lee reaches this city to place it in a wagon to be drawn by a rope a mile long. Men and women even now are clamoring to have a hold of the rope. The statue will be drawn through the city to the monument site.

BOARD OF REGISTRY.

The Boards of Registry of the several precincts of the city of Janesville, will sit on the 4th, 5th, 18th and 19th of March, 1890, at the several precincts as indicated below. Said board will meet at nine o'clock in the forenoon and hold their meetings open until eight o'clock in the evening of each day.

BLAIR'S SCHOOL BILL.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE SENATOR STILL IN BAD HUMOR.

He Fires Another Volley at the Press —Other News From the National Capital.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—In the Senate Mr. Cullom, from the interstate commerce committee, reported a resolution instructing the committee to investigate the allegation that by reason of excessive freight rates on lines of railroad the great section of country lying between the Rocky Mountains and the principal food distribution centers in the east is unable to market its food products and to obtain for them the actual cost of production.

The resolution heretofore offered by Mr. Chandler, calling on the Attorney-General for information as to the assassination of W. B. Saunders, deputy United States Marshal in the Northern district of Florida, was taken up, and Mr. Pasco proceeded to address the Senate in explanation of the facts and circumstances of the case.

Mr. Pasco had not concluded his statement when the hour of 2 o'clock arrived, and the educational bill came up as "unfinished business." Mr. Blair, however, yielded the floor to Mr. Wilson of Iowa, on whose motion the Senate bill appropriating $100,000 for a public building at Fort Dodge, Iowa, was taken from the calendar and passed, Mr. Call calling attention to the fact that this was the fourth public building bill passed for Iowa at this session.

The Senate bill appropriating $100,000 for a public building at Lansing, Mich., and the Senate bill establishing a customs collection district to consist of the States of North Dakota and South Dakota, were taken from the calendar and passed.

Mr. Blair then resumed his argument in favor of the educational bill. "This bill," said he, "if it is to fail will have been killed by packed committees, individual members of which have been threatened by anathemas from their church if they venture to support it. I give notice to those who propose to kill this bill by indirection and fraud, and by tricks unworthy of any other lobby around the capitol, that they have blows to receive as well as blows to give. This country is not to be given over to those who would teach a civil allegiance elsewhere than within our own borders. I speak but of a fraction of a great body of our citizens, for the masses of that same body of American citizens are true to the flag and do not propose to elect a president who resides on the banks of the Tiber."

Mr. Blair again paid his respects to the press. "The private press," said he, "that runs only for its own emolument and has to make money, and that leaves out the most truth, especially if it is unpalatable, is a poor press to rely upon. This great American press of ours is the source of more mischief in this country than there would be if we had no press at all. There may come a time when a dog-fight will not be more important in the opinion of this press than a great school bill, but that time has not been reached."

The House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—In the House bills were passed dividing the judicial pistrict of North Dakota into four divisions, the sessions of the courts to be held at Bismarck, Grank Forks, Fargo, and Devil's Lake; providing for terms and places of holding United States court in the district of Minnesota; authorizing the President to confer brevet rank upon army officers for gallant services in Indian campaigns since 1867.

At 1:25 o'clock the House went into committee of the whole, Mr. Payson of Illinois in the chair, on the bill to provide for the appointment of an assistant Secretary of War. After some debate the bill was favorably reported from the committee of the whole to the House, and the Oklahoma bill was then taken up.

Mr. Hooker of Mississippi gave notice that he would move to strike out all of the bill after section 45 which provides a judicial system for Indian Territory. He said the bill proposed a grand robbery equaled in the history of civilization only by the spoliation of Poland.

Mr. Washington of Tennessee declared that the bill violated no property rights of the Indians, and as to the talk of it being a crime against civilization in his opinion there could be no greater crime against civilization than to leave the 90,000 people in the Territory without any government at all.

Mr. Perkins of Kansas said there was not a single provision of the bill which infringed the right of the Indians. Properly the land belonged to the people; they should be permitted to occupy it, and to furthur contribute to the prosperity of the country.

Mr. Tarnsey of Missouri favored this bill. If it should be true that the government had, by treaty or otherwise, agreed to abstain from exercising judicial authority over the land, then that agreement was in violation of the constitution and the fundamental law of the United States.

Mr. Morey of Ohio said that the population of Indian territory was 277,000, or three times as many people as have Idaho, Wyoming and Arizona, which were now knocking at the door of the union, asking admission as States. The bill should include all of Indian territory; there was no necessity for a division of that magnificient territory.

Mr. Springer briefly mantained the absolute right of the government to the land embraced within the Oklahoma lines. He said that there was not an Indian living on the outlet, and the lands were leased to a cattle company.

To Prevent Adulteration of Food.

WASHINGTOM, Feb. 20.—The bill reported favorably by Senator Sherman from the committee on foreign relations provides for an inspection of meats for exportation and prohibits the importation of adulterated articles of food or drink. Pork or bacon may be exported without inspection when it has been packed for more than sixty days. The importation of cattle, sheep, or swine which are diseased or have been exposed to infection is prohibited; also any adulterated or unwholesome food or liquors mixed with an ingredient deleterious to health.

The Atkinson-Pendleton Contest.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The majority and minority reports in the Atkinson vs. Pendleton election contest from the Fourth West Virginia district were submitted in the House by Mr. Rowell and Mr. O'Ferrall respectively. Mr. Rowell in his report reaches the conclusion that Atkinson was elected, and Mr. O'Ferrall finds that Pendleton is entitled to his seat.

THE WHITE HOUSE A FIRE TRAP.

Unsafe Condition of the President's Official Abode.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The recent fire at the home of Secretary Tracy has caused the commissioner of public buildings and grounds to give his attention to the White House as a possible fire trap, and he finds that the old mansion will stand a poor show against a good-sized fire. The house is said to be provided now with almost everything that has been invented in the way of fire-escapes.

It has been discovered, however, that the nearest fire alarm box is some distance away, over at the Treasury, and that much valuable time would be consumed in ringing the alarm should the mansion be on fire. Col. Ernst has, therefore, arranged to establish in the White House free of cost a system of alarms to be connected with the city fire alarm service, and when this is done all the precaution possible against fire will have been taken.

Harrison's Trip to Pittsburg.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The President, accompanied by Repretentatives Bayne and Dalzell, Prof. Langley, and Mr. Andrew Carnegie, left here yesterday for Pittsburg, over the Baltimore & Ohio to attend the opening the free library at Allegheny City to-morrow.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 20.—After a short stop at the Carnegie steel works President Harrison arrived here at 11 o'clock last night, where a crowd awaited him in a driving rain. He immediately entered his carriage with the reception committee, Hon. John Dalzel, Andrew Carnegie, and J. B. Scott, and, preceded by eighty policemen, drove at once to the Duquesne club, where, after a short talk, the weary President retired.

The Alaska Sealing Contract.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—In the Senate Mr. Plumb having made inquiry of Mr. Morrill as to the status of the bill concerning the lease of the seal islands of Alaska, Mr. Morrill said that he had been instructed by the committee on finance not to press the matter, as there was not sufficient time to give it a full consideration. Mr. Plumb thought it unfortunate that Congress should not act in the matter befors the 21st of February, when the Secretary of the Treasury would make a new lease for twenty years. The Senators must be overworked, for the bill was introduced more than a month ago.

National Woman's Suffrage Association.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—At this morning's session of the National Woman's Suffrage Association State reports of the work were presented from Nebraska, Kentucky, Maine, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Wisconsin and Arkansas, followed by a discussion on the "Attitude of This Association Toward Political Parties," in which the Rev. Frederick A. Hinckley of Massachusetts, Senator Blair of New Hampshire, Susan B. Anthony, Alice Stone Blackwell, and others participated.

Bills Approved by the President.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The President has approved the act for the relief of the sufferers by the wreck of the Trenton, Vandalia and Nipsic at Samoa: an act to constitute Albany a port of immediate transportation, and the act appropriating $40,000 for the Marion home for disabled volunteer soldiers.

The Army Nurse Pension Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The bill reported favorably from the Senate committee on pensions, granting pensions to army nurses who served in the late war, is amended, so as to make the pensions granted $13 a month, instead of $25, as provided in the original bill.

PRAISED BY THE PRESIDENT.

Gen. Harrison Writes a Letter Complimenting the Young Republicans.

NEW YORK, Feb, 20.—President Harrison has written J. M. Thurston, President of the Republican club league, this letter:

DEAR SIR—It gives me pleasure to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 27th ultimo, extending on behalf of the Executive Committee of the Republican League of the United States an invitation to attend the third annual convention of the league, to be held at Nashville, Tenn., on March 4. While I cannot accept the invitation neither can I refrain from expressing my interest in the success of your proposed meeting, and in the permanence and useful activity of the clubs which will be represented. Such organizations are wholesome and desirable, not only from a party, but from a public standpoint.

They interest young men in public affairs and compare and organize the interest thus excited into controlling political forces. The party to which you belong has never suffered by an intelligent discussion of its history or principles; and I am sure your organization will continue to furnish courageous and well appointed champions wherever the lists of debate are opened. I doubt not that you will be cordially received by the people of Nashville and beg to express the hope that your meeting may be both successful and pleasant.

Very truly yours,
BENJAMIN HARRISON.

Bought by the English.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Feb. 20.—A morning paper states that to-day the Jung and Crescent breweries of this city will pass into the hands of an English syndicate, and be known as the Cincinnati breweries, limited. The owners of the breweries receive cash for the property.

The Jung brewery purchased the Crescent yesterday, and it was absorbed into the Jung Brewery company, with a capital of $1,000,000. This was then sold to James Scott of Kansas City, who sells to the syndicate. The amount paid by the syndicate is kept concealed, but the supposition is that it is nearly $1,000,000.

Joseph Biggar Is Dead.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—Joseph Gillis Biggar, a member of Parliament for Cavan and for a long time prominent in the Parnellite and home-rule ranks died at Clapham this morning.

Agreed at Last.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 20. — The World's fair conference report was adopted in the Assembly by a vote of 119 to 1, Mr. King, of New York, voting in the negative.

Take Care! There Is Danger.

In allowing inactivity of the kidneys to grow through neglect. The deadly shoals of Bright's disease and diabetes will wreck the goodly bark of health if it is allowed to drift rudderless upon them. The bladder, too, if inactive, and judicious medication does not speedily direct the helm toward the port of safety, will be whelmed by the quicksand of disease. In selecting a diuretic, let your choice fall upon Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which stimulates the renal organs without irritating and exciting them, two effects to be apprehended from the unmedicated stimuli largely resorted to These have a tendency to react prejudiciously. The bitters invigorate the kidneys and bladder, in common with the nerves and the digestive organs, and so afford lasting aid. It also affords dual assistance in preventing and curing intermittent and remittent fever. Biliousness, constipation and rheumatism it also subjugates.

Notice.

The annual meeting of the Johnstown Anti-Horse Thief Society will be held at the Johnson House, Johnstown Center, on Monday, March 3d, at two (2) o'clock p. m. JOHN BARLASS, SECRETARY.

MRS. M'CREA IN EUROPE.

DOUGLASS GREEN AND HIS CHICAGO BRIDE HEARD FROM.

They Fall in With an Acquaintance and 'fess up—Foreign News and Gossip.

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Feb. 20.—The steamer Lahn has just arrived here having on board Douglass Green, of New York, and Mrs. Snell-McCrea, whose marriage at Hamden, Va., created such a sensation. The couple were down on the passenger list as Mr. and Mrs. T. Fullerton. Mrs. McCrea had her child and two French maids with her. By a singular coincidence the purser of the steamer placed them at the same table with Ernest Smith, of Chicago, who is a son of the late Perry Smith, of the Northwestern railway, and who knew Mrs. McCrea very well in Chicago and recognized her immediately.

When she found concealment impossible Mrs. McCrea confessed her identity to him, and introduced Green as her husband. He said they had gone on board the steamer so late that their names were put on wrongly on the passenger list by mistake.

Mrs. McCrea said they had some difficulty in getting a clergyman to marry them, and a colored minister was the most available. The decision to come here was made hurriedly because of the publicity given in New York to their marriage.

Mrs. McCrea told one of the passengers that while their plans were not fully settled upon she would probably send to America for her other children and stay abroad a year or two.

Mr. Green said; "If there is anything to be explained to our friends at home I will explain it when I have had time to think the situation over."

BISMARCK'S RETIREMENT.

German Papers Say He Will Be Succeeded By Herr Boetticher.

BERLIN, Feb. 20.—The Freisinnige Zeitung says that Prince Bismarck has ordered an inventory to be made of his personal effects in the palace of ministerial residence in the Wilhelm strasse, in view of his resignation and retirement.

The semi-official papers continue in their comments to indicate that Herr Boetticher will be the Prince's successor and to refer to him in terms of high commendation.

The Hamburger Nachrichten admits that there was a difference in opinion between the Emperor and Prince Bismarck before the imperial rescripts were published, but says that a compromise was reached later, and that the policy of the Emperor was modified in consequence.

MASSACRES ARE FEARED.

Kurdish Tribes Are in a State of Indignation—50,000 Rifles in the Province.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—The continued detention of Moussa Bey in Constantinople and his persecution by the Christians exasperates the Moslems of Armenia, by whom he is regarded as a model Governor. The Kurdish tribes are in a state of indignation and are being furnished with Martini rifles, of which it is said 50,000 have been introduced into the province.

Massacres are feared by the Christians, who appeal for help to the western powers. Russia continues to strengthen her forces on the confines of Armenia, and would be only too ready to intervene if called upon to protect the Christian population.

ADMISSION FROM MR. ISAACS.

Sensation Created When He Said that Miss Vincent Threatened To Shoot Herself.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—The case of Miss Vincent, the paramour of L. H. Isaacs, the member of parliament for Newington-Walworth, under arrest for shooting him in the arm on her failure to compel him to sign certain promissory notes in her favor, came up for hearing to-day and the prisoner was committed for trial.

In his testimony Mr. Isaacs admitted that the pistol might have been fired by accident, and created a great sensation in court when he asserted that when Miss Vincent produced the pistol she first threatened to shoot herself and thus make his conduct public.

MANY LIVES WERE LOST.

Explosion in a French Colliery—Vessels Collide in a Heavy Fog.

PARIS, Feb. 20.—An explosion occurred in a colliery near Decize, Department of Nievre, last night. It is not known how many lives were lost, but already thirty-four bodies have been recovered.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—The steamer Highgate collided with the ship Sovereign in a fog off Lundy island yesterday and sank. Thirteen of the persons on board the steamer at the time of the collision have landed at Milford Haven. A boat containing six others is missing.

Barnum's Farewell Lunch.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—Barnum gave a farewell lunch to the members of the press on board the Furnessia yesterday. The octogenarian showman was in great form, with a long roll of funny stories and reminiscences to amuse the guests. Bailey and Perley sail to-morrow on the Trave, while the remainder of the show, including the 500 ballet girls, will cross the ocean in the Ethiopia and Furnessia. Barnum will remain in London ten days.

Houston Has Resigned.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—Houston, who procured the forged Parnell letters from Piggott and furnished them to the Times, has resigned as secretary of the Loyal union. Houston was prominent throughout the proceedings of the Parnell commission for his zeal in the prosecution of Irish members, and is denounced by them as a ring-leader in the conspiracy to break them down.

Emperor William's Labor Council.

BERLIN, Feb. 20.—The Reichsanzeiger publishes a list of the persons summoned to take part in the council to consider the condition of the working people. It includes a master locksmith, a foreman, a joiner, a polisher, a director of iron works, an owner of a factory, and Herr Hitze, a member of the Reichstag.

E. W. CALDWELL was crushed to death on attempting to board a moving freight train at Dix, near Mount Vernon, Ill.

Marion Harland.

The celebrated authoress, so highly esteemed by the women of America, says on pages 103 and 445 of her popular work, "Eve's Daughters, or, Common Sense for Maids, Wife and Mother:"

"For the aching back—should it be slow in recovering its normal strength—an Allcock's Porus Plaster is an excellent comforter, combining the sensation of the sustained pressure of a strong warm hand with certain tonic qualities developed in the wearing. It should be kept over the seat of uneasiness for several days—in obstinate cases, for perhaps a fortnight.

"For pain in the back wear an ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER constantly, renewing as it wears off. This is an invaluable support when the weight on the small of the back becomes heavy and the aching incessant."

Beware of imitations and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for Allcock's and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

ALLCOCK'S CORN AND BUNION SHIELDS effect quick and certain relief.

PAIN FROM INDIGESTION, dispepsia and too hearty eating, is relieved at once by taking one of Carter's Little Liver Pills immediately after dinner. Don't forget

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is a peculiar medicine. It is carefully prepared from Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Mandrake, Dock, Pipsissewa, Juniper Berries, and other well-known and valuable vegetable remedies, by a peculiar combination, proportion and process, giving to Hood's Sarsaparilla curative power not possessed by other medicines. It effects remarkable cures where other preparations fail.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the best blood purifier before the public. It eradicates every impurity, and cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Boils, Pimples, all Humors, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Sick Headache, Indigestion, General Debility, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Kidney and Liver Complaints, overcomes that tired feeling, creates an appetite, and builds up the system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Has met peculiar and unparalleled success at home. Such has become its popularity in Lowell, Mass., where it is made, that whole neighborhoods are taking it at the same time. Lowell druggists sell more of Hood's Sarsaparilla than of all other sarsaparillas or blood purifiers. Sold by druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

ADVERTISERS READ THIS, and after you have read it, think it over. Anything that concerns your business is of interest to you. We do not ask you to advertise in our paper, nor in any other papers; we only state the fact that success in advertising depends like any other success in knowing how to do it. Experience is a mighty good thing, but then, you are not to try the 16,000 and odd papers published in this country, for if you do you will sack your safe before you know the a. b. c. of the science of advertising, for science it is, the advertising on a large or small scale. It is more economic, more profitable, and a great deal wiser to ascertain yourself which paper or set of papers will bring the best result for the same amount of money. The PRINTERS' INK is the paper in which you will learn the long and short of the story. It has no interest in having your 'ad.' in one paper rather than another. It is independent, well informed and truthful. If you advertise at all, whether for one dollar, or for one thousand, or for one million of dollars a year, you will miss your road if, not knowing it you do not inquire of the advertiser's guide, and thinking you know it, you take a sinuous pathway and get at the goal at the eve of death. We will send the PRINTERS' INK and the "Daily Gazette," to any advertiser who will prove himself to be such, for one year, for the price of one: that is for six dollars. Address:

INFLUENZA IN MEXICO.

Sensational Reports Concerning the Prevalence of the Disease There.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 20.—Private letters received here from the City of Mexico state that the grip has been more widespread and persistent in its ravages there than anywhere else on the American continent. The writers are American residents of the Mexican capital, and have no motive to conceal the truth.

A letter dated the 14th inst. and received here to-day says: "The progress of the influenza here and its results have been truly terrific. The disease reached us in January and has grown steadily worse, until it is now at its height. The number of cases of acute pneumonia is absolutely wonderful. It has been the rule rather than the exception, and no precautions seem to have been able to prevail against it. This has been especially the case among the poorer classes, who live generally in houses which afford no protection against the elements. They have died absolutely like sheep, sometimes 125 a day. Just now the supply of coffins has been exhausted and many bodies have been buried without.

LOVE'S SEASONS.

The wall-flowers to the frolic wind
  Do dance their golden algelets,
And elf-maids steal the hawthorn beads
  To wear for fairy amulets.
The spring is here, the spring is here—
The love-time of the year, my dear!

All heavy hang the apple boughs,
  Weighed down by balls of yellow gold;
The poppy-cups, so fiery bright,
  Me seems would burn the hearts they hold.
The summer's here, the summer's here—
The kiss-time of the year, my dear!

The birds are winging for the South.
  The elf-maids hasten to their bowers,
And dandelion balls do float
  Like silver ghosts of golden flowers.
The autumn's here, the autumn's here—
The wife-time of the year, my dear!

Now are the heavens not more gray
  Than are the eyes of her I love;
More dainty white than her sweet breast
  The snow lies not the earth above.
The winter's here, the winter's here—
The love-time last's the year, my dear!

SAVED FROM THE SEA.

It was a stormy day that Mary Gray looked out on the sea. Her lover, Tom Brown, the captain of the Ringwood, was expected home to-day, and she feared the schooner would incur great danger in the heavy seas then running.

Tom had toiled for years for an uncle who had not paid him a cent, but Mary's father that day had seen a messenger from the old man, who had been deputied to leave $30,000 in the young captain's hands as soon as he should appear. Mr. Gray said nothing to Mary about the money, for she had enough to think about that day.

Toward evening the gale increased and several vessels were seen struggling to reach the shore. One of these was the Ringwood, partly dismantled. What was the agony of the young girl when the ship, struck by a squall, careened over and sank before her very eyes.

Father and daughter watched the scene, half stupefied.

The forms of several sailors were seen whirling about, as they clung to planks which had drifted clear of the vessel.

"Tom may be one of those men!" cried Mary. "We must go out and try to save him."

"I don't think that'll be of any use. The poor fellows would be drowned before we could reach them," said one of the fishermen, for the abode of Mary Gray was located in a fishing village. "Besides, it's likely our boat would be swamped."

"We can try," said Mr. Gray, "give me a lift with the boat."

The boat was pushed down to the surf, which was not so heavy in the cove as it was just beyond it.

But now the men all hung back. It required a stout heart to dare so dangerous a sea.

"If you are afraid I will go alone," said the fisherman's brave girl, springing into the boat.

"No!" exclaimed her father, quickly following. "You can steer and handle an oar, Mary, in good weather, but not by yourself in such a wild sea as this."

Several of the other men now mustered courage to join Gray and his daughter; but before the boat could be shoved toward the raging waters, Mary's father told her she had better jump out.

"No," replied the young girl. "I will help save Tom, or I will die in the attempt."

As she spoke, leaning over the stern sheets, she pushed against a rock, sending the boat out toward the waves beyond the cove.

"You will require me to steer," she continued. "There are but few men here, and all must pull or we will make no headway."

She seated herself at the tiller of the boat.

"No, Mary! I tell you you must not go," cried her father.

But as he said this the boat drifted among the huge, rolling waves, and then it was absolutely necessary to ply the oars and pull her far enough out to save her from being hurled against the rocks.

Mary remained at the tiller, and well did she perform her duty. Heedless of the drenching spray, she kept at her post, steering the boat with dauntless courage, while with keen, eager gaze she watched for the struggling forms which had been seen from ashore clinging to planks.

At last the boat was about 100 fathoms from land.

"We are now far enough out to clear the rocks on our return and make the cove," said Mr. Gray. "The poor fellows are lost and we may as well go back."

"No! no!" cried Mary. "There! now I see some one through that cloud of spray. It is Tom! Quick! for God's sake, pull ahead."

The men plied oars vigorously and with a will.

Two sailors, each clinging to a plank, were hurled half drowned toward the boat.

"Help!" continued Mary, leaning over and with her left hand clutching the hair of one of the sailors as he was being swept past the craft.

She held on until her father and another man drew the half-senseless form into the boat. This person proved to be Capt. Brown, so exhausted that, had he not been taken from the sea just then, he must have been drowned.

The other castaway, who had been the first mate of the schooner, was pulled out of the water by one of the fishermen forward, but no more of the schooner's crew, who had numbered six in all, were seen.

Only these two were saved, and even they would not have been rescued but for the indomitable pluck of a Massachusetts girl, born and bred on the seacoast.

With much difficulty the boat was got back to the cove without swamping.

And then, for the first time Mr. Gray told Tom about the fortune his uncle had sent him, and the young man realized now much he would have lost had not his brave Mary persuaded the fishermen to go out to rescue him.

That same day he received his uncle's present at the Samoset house. The note from his relative was to the effect that he had always intended to pay the youth for his past services, but that he had resolved to be governed as to the amount he should send him by the conduct of his nephew after the latter was left to shift for himself.

A few months after obtaining this gift Tom received another—Mary Gray, whom he had made his wife.

OBITUARY.

Geo. Saxe.

The people of Lima were pained to hear of the death of Mr. Geo. Saxe, which occurred on Monday morning. Mr. Saxe was taken sick last week with la grippe, and on Sabbath evening at eight o'clock the death angel called for him to bid adieu to earthly life, to enter the life eternal. In early life Mr. Saxe gave his heart to God and became a member of the M. E. church at Lima. He spent his boyhood and early manhood in Lima living an upright christian life. He leaves a wife and three small children, father, mother and one brother to mourn his death and the sympathy of the community is extended especially to the lonely wife and little ones.

Mrs. Amanda Winston.

Mrs. Amadda Winston, aged 91 years, died at her home in Evansville Thursday evening of old age. Mrs. Winston was one of the early settlers in Rock county, and for many years lived east of the village of Evansville on the Janesville road. Her funeral was held on Sunday. She was the mother of Nelson, Reuben and John Winston, of Evansville, and was greatly loved and respected by her large acquaintance.

Albert Bemis.

Albert Bemis died at his home in Evansville on Friday and was buried on Monday. He was 74 years old, and leaves many friends to mourn his death.

Mrs. Jerolson, of Evansville, died on Thurday last.

Mrs. Hamilton Wells, of Cooksville, died Tuesday morning, of cancer.

Mrs. James Broderick, formerly of Evansville, died in Florida last week. Her remains were brought to Brodhead for interment on Tuesday.

Pears' soap secures a beautiful complexion.

LOOKING AHEAD.

The Ocean Steamship as It May be in the Future.

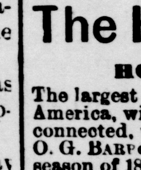

She will be over a quarter of a mile in length, says Once a Week, and will do the passage from Sandy Hook to Liverpool in thirty-six hours, being one night out. She will be driven by electricity, and in such a fashion as to keep railway time, despite of fog or storm. Passages can be secured by flash photo, Edison's patent, and the ticket will include an opera stall, or a concert ticket, or a seat in a church pew—the opera-house, concert hall, and church being all on board. A covered ring for horse exercise will also be provided, and a racing track for fast trotters. A base-ball ground and tennis courts will also form a portion of the attractions. For business men a stock exchange will be operated, the quotations being posted from the tickers every two minutes on the vibration system. The leading papers of all countries will be reprinted each morning by the electric reflection system. A spacious conservatory, containing the choicest flowers of all climates will afford an agreeable lounging-place and bouquets will be provided gratis. As at Monoco and Monte Carlo, a suit of apartments will be laid out for play, to be kept open all night, a sumptuous supper, with the costliest wines, free. English tailors and shoe makers will be in attendance and clothes will be made and finished during the passage. The milinery deaprtment will contain the French fashions of the previous day and costumes will be constructed while the ship is en route and delivered complete on arrival at dock. Accomodations will be furnished for 10,000 passengers.

"A stitch in time saves nine," and if you take Hood's Sarsaparilla now it may save months of future possible sickness.

Pear's soap is the pure and best soap ever made.

Not a Pimple on Baby
Baby one year old. Bad with Eczema. Hair all gone. Scalp covered with eruptions. Cured by Cuticura. Hair splendid and not a pimple on him.
Cured by Cuticura
I cannot say enough in praise of the Cuticura Remedies; My boy when one year of age, was so bad with eczema that he lost all of his hair. His scalp was covered with eruptions, which the doctor said was scald head, and that his hair would never grow again. Despairing of a cure from physicians, I began to use the Cuticura Remedies, and I am happy to say, with the most perfect success. His hair is now splendid, and there is not a pimple on him. I recommend the Cuticura Remedies to mothers as the most speedy, economical and sure cure for all skin diseases of infants and children, and feel that every mother who has an afflicted child will thank me for so doing.
MRS. M. E. WOODSUM, Norway, Me.
Fever Sore Eight Years.
I must extend to you the thanks of one of my customers, who has been cured by using the Cuticura Remedies, of an old sore, caused by a long spell of sickness or fever eight years ago. He was so bad he was fearful he would have to have his his leg amputated, but is happy to say is now entirely well,—sound as a dollar. He requests me to use his name, which is H. H. Carson, merchant.
JOHN V. MINOR, Druggist, Gainsboro, Tenn.
We have been selling your Cuticura Remedies for years, and have the first complaint yet to receive from a purchaser. One of the worst cases of Scrofula I ever saw was cured by them.

DRUNKENNESS
Or the Liquor Habit, Positively Cured by administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.
It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea or in articles of food, without the knowledge of the patient. It is absolutely harmless, and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. IT NEVER FAILS. Over 100,000 drunkards have been made temperate men who have taken Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge, and to-day believe they quit drinking of their own free will. 48 page book of particulars free.

Wonders of California.
We have after careful consideration decided to place before the public several of the natural curiosities of this state. They have been obtained at great expense from all portions of the state, and will be found to be a source of knowledge to the young as well as to the old; are an ornament to any home and will last a life time. This is an opportunity that is seldom offered and during the short time we have given the public chance to purchase these natural curiosities our sales have been enormous, and in order to let every one avail themselves of this opportunity, and every home to be in possession of one of these wonderful works of nature, we have reduced the price to 50 cents which will include their being securely packed and postage paid to any part of the United States. BRIEFLETS.

Regular drill night for the Janesville Light Infantry.

Mrs. Livermore next Wednesday evening, Feb. 26th.

Call and see the gold fish and canary birds at Heimstreet's drug store.

New lot of Sweedish leeches just received at Heimstreet's New York Drug Store.

Fresh lot of Seidlitz Powders, Bromo Caffine at Heimstreet's drug store. Open at 7 a. m.

The Fortnightly Club meets to-morrow evening with Rev. C. F. Elliott and wife, South Main street.

The date of Mrs. Livermore's lecture is Feb. 26, not Feb. 22, as may appear from some of the tickets.

The next K. P. social has been postponed from Thursday, Feb. 20th, to Wednesday evening, Feb. 26th.

Mr. John Gleason was presented with a handsome easy chair by his fellow mail carriers on the event of his wedding, Tuesday.

Janesville Chapter No. 5, Royal Arch Masons, assemble in regular semi-monthly convocation this evening at Masonic hall.

James Collins, Rock county's famous sprinter, won the great Sheffield handicap a day or two ago. The prize amounted to several thousand dollars.

The ladies of the Court Street M. E. church gave one of their popular suppers at the Sunday school rooms last evening. A fine menu had been prepared and a large number partook.

The banks will be closed Saturday, the 22d inst., in honor of Washington's birthday. Patrons who are in the habit of drawing pay-roll checks on Saturday, will govern themselves accordingly.

The gospel meetings at the Court street M. E. church are still growing in interest, and a good number each evening express a desire to enlist as soldiers of the Lord. Meeting to-night at 7:30.

Mrs. Fannie Rust Richardson, mother of Mr. E. B. Richardson, is 90 years old to-day, and is hale and hearty. Mrs. Richardson still retains her mental faculties unimpaired, and is as bright and lively as many ladies much younger.

Superintendent Stewart, of the city schools, granted the pupils a recess yesterday afternoon in order that all who desired to witness the exhibition by the fire department and the cavalcade of imported horses might have the opportunity. Nearly all took in the show.

Mrs. Livermore's was the last and the most brilliant of the Star Course. Her manner was dignified and womanly, her enunciation clear, her language exceedingly choice, and her sentences clean cut and pointed. "It was an elegant lecture," said all the ladies, and the gentlemen endorsed the compliment.—Dayton, (O.) Journal.

One of the largest and finest audiences that ever welcomed a public speaker in this city assembled at the tabernacle last evening to enjoy the lecture of Mrs. Mary A. Livermore on "The Boy of To-day." Every seat in the building was occupied, and every occupant seemed pleased with the earnest and eloquent discourse of the evening.—Cleveland (O.) Leader.

Mrs. Livermore was greeted last evening at Moore's opera house by one of the finest and largest audiences ever assembled in that attractive and roomy edifice. Mrs. Livermore is a lively and exceedingly interesting lecturer. She was warmly applauded and at the close of the lecture received warm congratulations.—Des Moines (Iowa) Register.

THE WEATHER.

Clearing Weather—Colder—Northerly Winds—With a Cold Wave.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 10 degrees above zero. Clear with west wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 11 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with northeast wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 6 degrees below zero and 12 degrees above zero.

TOOK THE WHOLE OUTFIT.

A Duluth Man Hires a Special Train and Tries to Escape Creditors.

"Talk about gall," said a prominent business man to a friend at the depot this morning.

"Why, I was just summoned to Duluth on business. We sold a man at Duluth a carload of machinery. In the meantime, he had failed, or rather was about to fail, so he hired a special train which he had run up on his side track, and loading his whole stock into it, started out. They caught him and his train at West Superior. We have a second attachment on the outfit, one creditor having got the start of us How he expected to get away with a whole train load of hardware and machinery is a mystery to me, but he did just the same."

SHE BLEACHED HER HAIR.

A Janesvillle Girl Who Is Spoiling Her Good Looks Imposing on Nature.

A girl whose hair but a short time ago was a beautiful brown, but now is golden as one of the glorious sunsets in the Yellowstone National Park, passed a number of editors on East Milwaukee street, the other day. One of them asked it that was the natural color of her hair. "No," said the business man, "she has bleached it, and now they say that it is falling out in bunches as large as a dog's tail. Soon she will be as bald as a billiard ball and then she will look sweet, wont she? Why, they say that she threw away some of her bleaching fluid; a colored woman found it, and it turned her hair a beautiful gold also. Oh! this is a great city, I tell you.

FRIGHTENED BY CARS.

Thomas Tennent Severely Bruised by Being Thrown From His Wagon.

Tuesday morning Mr. Thomas Tennent met with quite a painful accident. He had started with a team for a load of wood, and when near the railroad bridge which crosses the Madison road, discovered a train coming, but too late to stop. The train reached the bridge just as the horses were under it, and the team becoming frightened at the noise over them started to run. They ran off the side of the road and the lines were broken—Mr. Tennent being thrown from the wagon. The wagon wheels passed over his head and chest. His head was bruised—his eye and temple being cut. He is resting easier than could be expected to-day.

The horses were found later in the day about two miles from the scene of the accident.

THE BIBLE SOCIETY.

A Canvass of the City by an Agent of the Rock County Society.

JANESVILLE, Wis., Feb. 20th, 1890.

The Rock County Bible Society has secured the services of Deacon O. H. Parker, who has had many years experience as a a colpoteur and distributor in other states to canvass the city of Janesville. He will commence his labors Monday, Feb. 24th, 1890, and hopes to visit every family in the city. We trust the friends of the bible will give him a cordial welcome and such material aid as will enable him to carry on this work successfully and supply all who wish to purchase, or who may be unable to do so, with the scriptures.

JONAH'S MODERN RIVAL.

The Biblical Narrative Given Fresh Significance.

"Now children," said the infant class teacher encouragingly," this good man that we are speaking of was on his way to Nineveh, when a storm came up and he was thrown into the sea. Can any of you tell me who this good man was?"

"Oh, yes, I 'spose probably it was McGinty," said a third ward little one in a tone of disgust, "but I shouldn't think we ought to talk about such things in Sunday school."

Funeral of George Griffin.

The funeral of the late George Griffin was held from St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock this morning, the Rev. E. M. McGinnity officiating. The attendance was very large. The interment was made at Mt. Olivet.

The Swedish Cure for Drunkenness.

The habitual drunkard in Norway and Sweden renders himself liable to imprisonment for his love of strong drink, and during his incarceration he is required to submit to a plan of treatment for the cure of his failing which is said to produce marvelous results. The plan consists in making the delinquent subsist entirely on bread and wine. The bread is steeped in a bowl of wine for an hour or more before the meal is served. The first day the habitual toper takes his food in this shape without repugnance; the second day he finds it less agreeable to his palate; finally he positively loathes the sight of it. Experience shows that a period of from eight to ten days of this regimen is generally more than sufficient to make a man evince the greatest aversion to anything in the shape of wine. Many men after their incarceration become total abstainers.

An Interesting and Profitable Business Meeting Was Held This Morning.

THE ELECTION OF OFFICERS FOR THE ENSUING YEAR.

The Public Meeting Last Evening and Mr. Scott's Address—Other Matters—Adjournment.

The morning meeting was called to order by President Price at 9.45 a. m. The first business was the reading of some letters received, among others an invitation to the association from Valentine Bros. to visit their school of telegraphy.

The first topic for discussion was "What is News and What is a Newspaper?" Answers were read by Mr. Price, of the Hudson Star, Dr. William Horne, of the Janesville Recorder, and Mr. Hubert, of the National Journalist.

"How to Make a Man and a Printer Out of the Devil" was the next subject, by Mr. M. P. Rindlaub, of the Platteville Witness. Mr. Rindlaub stated that he was not very well prepared for the subject, but would say a few words. His remarks were clear and to the point and were of much interest. There was a general discussion on this subject, in which a number took part, among others Mr. E. D. Coe, of the Whitewater Register; George W. Peck, of Peck's Sun, Milwaukee, and Mr. G. H. Bishop, of the New North Rhinelander. Mr. Peck's remarks were quite humorous and called forth applause.

The next topic was "Should the Fraternity of the State and Nation Adopt a Code of Ethics." This subject was assigned on the programme to Mr. W. F. Street, of the Superior Inter-Ocean. Mr. Street was detained by sickness and his paper was read by Mr. Joe M. Chapple, of the Ashland Press. The paper was very interesting and was listened to with attention.

Hon. Horace Rublee, of the Milwaukee Sentinel, did not think that the code was necessary and made some pointed remarks to that effect.

Mr. M. H. Barnum, of the Wausau Torch of Liberty, made a short speech against the code that was well received.

Mr. O. G. Munson, of the Viroqua Censor, then read the letter from Ex-President John Hicks, of Oshkosh, now United States minister to Peru, on the "Newspapers of Lima." The paper was exceedingly interesting and was listened to attentively by all present.

"Phases of country newspaper work" by Mrs. Theodora W. Youmans, of the Waukesha Freeman, was the next subject. Her paper was very interesting and instructive and called forth loud applause.

A discussion on the constitution of the association was next, and remarks were made by Mr. Rindlaub, of the Platteville Witness. Mr. Hurlburt, of the Oconomowoc Free Press; Mr. Coon, Edgerton Reporter; Mr. Coe, Whitewater Register; Mr. Peck, Peck's Sun, and Mr. Barnum, Wausau Torch of Liberty.

A five minute's recess was then taken.

Mr. T. K. Dunn, of the Elroy Tribune, chairman of the advertising committee, stated that that committee was unanimous in the opinion that the time was too short for a report. They desired time for further consideration.

Motion was made that the committee be instructed to report at the next winter meeting of the association. Adopted.

The election of officers was next in order.

Mr. T. K. Dunn, of the Elroy Tribune, moved that the secretary be instructed to cast the vote of the association for Mr. Price, of the Hudson Star, for president, to succeed himself. Motion adopted by unanimous vote.

Mr. Price stated that his health was poor, and that he should prefer that they elect some one else, and thanking them for their courtesy, respectfully declined the office.

Mr. Munson, of the Viroqua Censor, moved that as Mr. Price knew his affairs better than any one else, that his declination of the office be accepted. The motion was lost. Mr. Price was therefore declared elected president. This was a fitting tribute to his executive abilities, and a vote of thanks was tendered him for his excellent service, to which he responded feelingly.

The president then appointed as a committee of five to agree upon the nomination for the officers: Mr. Coe, Whitewater Register; Mr. Hurlburt, Oconomowoc Free Press; Mr. Decker, Green Bay Advocate; Mr. Osborne, Sault Ste Marie News; and Mr. Gregg, of the Superior Wave, to meet at 1:30 and have their report at the meeting this afternoon.

Motion was made by Mr. Rindlaub, of the Platteville Witness, that the selection of delegates to the national convention, be left to the president. Adopted.

The meeting then adjourned until two o'clock, when the business will be resumed.

This afternoon the committee on officers presented the following names, which were unanimously adopted:

Vice Presidents—Chas Ingersoll, Beloit. E. H. Hurlburt, Oconomowoc; E. A. Charltor, Brodhead; G. W. Peck, Milwaukee; H. W. Hartman, Plymouth; C. G. Stark, Berlin, E. B. Usher, La Crosse; Frank Gregg, Superior; Frank Long, Green Bay.

Secretary—F. W. Coon, Edgerton.

Assistant Secretary—G. W. Bishop, Rhinelander.

Treasurer—J. R. Decker, Columbus.

Executive Committee—M. P. Rindlaub, Platteville; M. H. Barnum, Wausau; O. G. Munsar, Viroqua; J. A. Watrous, Milwaukee.

Eulogies were read for Isaac L. Usher by W. L. Osborn, of La Crosse, and David Atwood, by Hon. Horace Rublee of Milwaukee. Several new members were received and other business transacted.

At four o'clock, after passing the usual resolutions of thanks, the association adjourned, sine die.

The Evening Sessions.

The armory contained about eight hundred ladies and gentlemen last evening, called together for the purpose of listening to the address of Mr. James W. Scott, of the Chicago Herald, and the stories of Opie P. Reid, of the Arkansaw Traveler. President Price presided and the first number on the programme was a selection by the Janesville Glee Club—Messrs. E. O. Kimberly, C. N. Vankirk, Geo. Paris and Clarence L. Clark—the selection being entitled "Springtime," and was beautifully rendered, the quartet receiving loud applause.

President Price then announced as the first speaker of the evening Mr. James W. Scott, of the Chicago Herald, but formerly a Wisconsin boy, his home being in Walworth county. Mr. Scott was greeted with enthusiastic applause. His subject was "Why the Country Newspaper Man Succeeds in the City," but his remarks took a wider range and he touched upon various phases of newspaper management and the financial perils with which it is beset. "Without reflecting upon the newspaper editors of a few years ago," he said, "the newspaper to-day is so much greater in its expenditures, so much more intricate in its detail, and is made up of so many departments that its management requires more business tact, shrewdness and activity than ever before. The protection to the successful newspaper of the present day does not, as public opinion supposes, lie in its press franchise to as great an extent as formerly, but in the fact of its enormous expense, an expense running in some instances as high as $35,000 per week, or $5,000 per day, as was stated to this association by Mr. Dana in his address to you in 1888. To compete with the old and established paper the new enterprise must spend as much money in making a good article. Without the revenue from advertising and large sales, both of which require years to accumulate, the newcomer must have a large surplus to make good the deficiency until the revenue is created, if created it ever is. It is a singular fact, but it is a fact nevertheless, that the newspaper business resembles more closely that of mining for gold and silver than any other: In both more money has been lost than has been made. We hear of the bonanza kings and the few newspapers which make fortunes every year, but we seldom hear of the almost innumble newspapers that have required up to millions of dollars to keep them going until there promoters have had the courage to abandon them. We always forget when we do hear of such luck as this. It is one of the most comfortable traits of our natures that we do not remember the disagreeable. To continue the comparison with mining, we may be misled by remembering always the fortunes made and think these instances are more frequent than they are. Some venturesome speculator may take hold of an almost abandoned mine, turn it in another direction and strike a body of ore that will make his fortune. So with a news paper; occassionally fortune is brought out of disaster and a magnificent enterprise erected upon the failures of others."

The newspaper of to-day. Mr. Scott said, must be impersonal. It cannot gratify the spites of its owners. As the tool of combinations or defenders of rascals it quickly loses influence. What the newspaper of to-day is is well illustrated by the Sunday issues in the large cities, with their diversity of articles of a special nature covering a greater variety of topics than is covered by any of the poplar magaziues; in the correspondence from all parts of the world, the important events of the previous day in all the capitals of the old world, by cable, not by the line but by the column; with telegraphic communications covering the whole of our own country; with a full and complete record of the local happenings of the twenty-four hours previous; with advertisements contributed by not only hundreds but by thousands of people, giving important information to all engaged in commercial pursuits; with markets giving the prices of all staple and speculative articles and commodities in the principal financial centers, with editorial comment upon all these topics by men who must be able to comprehend and to convey concisely and clearly to the readers of the paper a comprehensive idea of the effect of the happenings chronicled upon the business welfare and the morals of the community in which the paper circulates: in all of these features the Sunday newspaper stands unparalleled.

The cheapness of white paper, the greatest speed of printing machines and the low telegraph tolls have increased the size and decreased the price of daily papers. The typesetting machine, which in a short time will be in use in every printing office, will surely lessen the cost of the setting of a column of type, and then the protection of the strongly intrenched newspaper, referred to in the early part of these remarks, will lie in giving the reader still more for his money. The newspaper proprietor that believes that all of the saving by setting type by machinery is to go into his pocket is mistaken. Nor need the compositors be alarmed, for as the machine is introduced the quantity of type to be set will be increased.

Mr. Scott spoke of the newspaper illustrations, which he thought had come to stay. The newspaper caricature is now wrestling with the editorial, the successful caricature having the advantage over the editorial of being understood quickly because a glance is only required. The public officer can take placidly almost any amount of criticism from a political opponent, but the comic picture is too much for him. He wilts immediately and wastes his strength pounding thin air in attempting to strike back.

Mr. Scott next spoke of some of the details of newspaper management and said: "The man who comes from the country is always a newspaper man. The product of the city is a journalist. The journalist gets a large salary for his genius, but he seldom saves any of his money, and when he dies the newspaper man pays his funeral expenses. The journalist may succeed as a writer because he has a classical education, but he labors half a day to write a head for one of his articles which the newspaper man can write in one minute and make the lines fit the type.

"The journalist has no capacity for business and prides himself on it. The newspaper man takes in everything and prepares himself for proprietorship, which stage he reaches and makes the money to pay the journalist.

"The journalist has no idea of typesetting, consequently he has no typographical taste. He wants his own matter leaded, and a display head on it. The newspaper man builds for a symmetrical whole and gets' credit for a taste which came through his knowledge of printing.

"The journalist wants no pictures to interfere with his writing. The newspaper man introduces illustrations, uses them judiciously, and has increased the aggregate sale of papers and given more journalists employment.

"The journalist wants to be a great writer. The newspaper man endeavors to be a writer, but at the same time he does not lose sight of the fact that a knowledge of the practical will assist him to be part proprietor if he cannot be sole owner.

"The journalist is satisfied with the city, and has to be satisfied, because there is little or no use for him in the country. If the city does not afford an opportunity such as the newspaper man desires, he gets the benefit of a few years' experience, and then returns to a smaller place which eventually grows up and becomes a metropolis, and he and his newspaper grow with it, I repeat, the journalist is the product of the city, the newspaper man the product of the country.

"The man who, besides the regular work on his paper, helps get a certain set of delegates to a convention and is permitted to be one of the number and has for his reward when he reaches the convention the unanimous election as secretary and four days' work to get his notes in shape to make up the record knows enough when he makes a metropolitan newspaper to twirl his fingers at the end of his nose at the county, central and city committees and make them pay for all their announcements 'cash over the counter in advance' or no publication.

"The man who has done everything in the country office appreciates promptness in the city office. The necessity for haste in a metropolitan newspaper office compels everything else to be subordinate, and the training and education in the practical workings of every mechanical detail acquired by the country editor give him the ability and power to take advantage of every point that will save minutes and seconds and thereby beat competitors.

"The entire aspect of the profession is changing so rapidly by unexpected mechanical contrivances and inventions that it takes an alert man to keep up with the times. The value of an organization like yours, of newspaper proprietors and editors, is becoming greater each year. It is by association that you learn of improved methods and of labor-saving machines. The experience of one member is a benefit to all. I will venture the assertion that this meeting has been, up to the time I began this infliction, the most interesting and profitable you have ever had, and that none of you will go home without feeling that you cannot afford to miss the next gathering. It is upon such men as you, who have the close connection with the people; who have a practical knowledge of every detail of your business; who can more quickly feel the pulse of the nation and tell the disease it will have; who can, from your knowledge of the individuals, prescribe a remedy for the masses, and who wield an influence over your neighborhoods and communities not comprehended by fellow-workers in the large cities, that the welfare of the nation and the prosperity and happiness of the state depend."

At the close of Mr. Scott's speech he received a regular ovation in the way of applause, editors and citizens joining in a hearty clapping of hands.

President Price then introduced Prof. Henry F. Stembach, of Chicago, as the champion zither player of the world. Prof. Stembach's first number was a battle scene, in which he gave almost perfect imitations of the bugle calls, beating of drums, firing of cannon, and rattle of musketry. His playing captivated the large audience, and when his number was concluded he was again and and again called back, giving as the second number a "Snow Gallop," and as the third a 'Cat Serenade," each being received with loud applause. Prof. Stembach is unquestionably a master of this little instrument. and his playing last evening was the finest ever witnessed in Janesville.

"The Warrior Bold," by the male quartette, was rendered in a very pleasing manner, and elicited merited applause.

President Price then introduced, as the next speaker, Mr. Opie P. Reid, of the Arkansas Traveler. Mr. Reid is a typical southerner, possessing considerable of the plantation dialect, and is a very clever story teller. He kept the audience in good cheer for half an hour relating his humorous stories, and was liberally applauded.

Prof. Stembach favored the audience with another selection on his zither, and in responding to an encore gave Emmett's "Lullaby."

Gov. Hoard, who occupied a seat on the platform, was called to the front and made a few timely remarks, stating that it was not often that we had the opportunity of mingling together—the people and the press—in a more pleasant, conducive and cheering manner than in Janesville. He never knew of a city where a man could mingle with more contentment than in Janesville. Everybody had an opportunity to mingle. Janesville never puts on airs, but she gets there just the same. Janesville never boasted of her spires but they were as high as anybody's. He had been very much interested in the meeting, and was glad that the lines had been cast in such pleasant places.

The governor was loudly applauded, and as he bowed in acknowledgment, the exercises closed and the audience dispersed.

"CASTLE CAMPBELL."

Rock Prairie Farmers Purchase One of Galbraith Brothers' Favorite Clydes.

A number of the prosperous farmers of Rock Prairie were in town yesterday taking in the parade of draft horses, which was undoubtedly the very finest ever seen on this continent. Immediately after the parade the gentlemen above named went up to Galbraith Bros.' barn and there purchased the grand Clydesdale stallion "Castle Campbell," (6584) 4542, who, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, showed up in such a superb manner as to captivate all beholders. The Rock Prairie men who made this deal say that in Castle Campbell they have an ideal Clydesdale stallion, of sufficient size and with the "gun metel" quality of bone and the soft silky hair which is now so eagerly sought after in all civilized countries.

From the union of Castle Campbell and the well bred mares of Rock Prairie the very best results are to be confidently expected and these enterprising farmers are to be sincerely congratulated on the purchase of such a truly great horse. Notwithstanding the unpleasantness of yesterday Messrs. Galbraith Bros. sold no less than five stallions, including Castle Campbell named above.

MILTON.

Ira J. Ordway, of Chicago, visited Milton friends last week.

Dr. Jas. Mills, of Janesville, was here Friday in consultation with Dr. Crandall on the case of Mrs. J. W. Cutting.

R. Home sold his crop of tobacco last Monday to T. B. Earl at 6 and 2½c. H. Jackson sold to the same buyer at 7 and 2c and William Cole at 6 and 2c.

Revival meetings are being held every evening this week at the M. E. church. The pastor, Rev. M. C. Pickenan, is being assisted by Rev. Mr. Verity.

People who haven't their ice houses filled, begin to fear that they will have no ice next summer. Don't get frightened, we have had two months of winter in Wisconsin after this date in the long ago.

W. H. Lane, who is engaged in the milling business at Sparta, N. J. arrived in town Monday. Mr. Lane has been haying a serious time with la grippe and began to think he would not see his Wisconsin home again.

Mr. and Mrs. Hurlburt left Thursday for California, where they will remain until May. They will reside at Oak Park The Milton friends of the happy couple unite in wishing them a blissful and prosperous future.

Dr. C. H. West and family, of Kilbourn City, are in town visiting friends. The doctor has rooms in Burdick's photograph studio and will engage in dental work a time with a view of making this his permanent home should his patronage warrant him in so doing.

The social event here last week was the marriage of Miss Mary Walker eldest daughter of the late Alfred Walker, and Mr. S. C. Hurlburt, of Chicago. The ceremony took place Wednesday afternoon, at the residence of the bride's uncle, Rev. Wm. Walker, who was the officiating clergyman. The bride has been a very successful teacher and for three years past has taught at Oak Park, Ill., where she became acquainted with her husband, who is a member of the Board of Trade and a provision packer. Those present from outside of town were the son and daughter of the groom, his brother, M. J. Hurlburt, and Miss Faulkner, also of Chicago; Mr. George Pratt, wife and daughter, and Mrs. Milo Jones, of Fort Atkinson, and George Walker, of Madison. The presents were numerous and costly.

Last Wednesday, Charles Brown, Henry Van de Walker, Johnnie Hurd and a son of Mr. Payntor, were on trial before Justice Clarke for larceny, the boys having broken into the cellar of Gardner Samuels and taken a small quantity of cider during his absence in California. Assistant District Attorney Wheeler appeared for the state, and Ezra Goodrich for Brown and Vand de Walker. The quartette all plead guilty, but as the two last named had agreed to testify, if necessary, against their comrades they were only fined $5 and costs, while the other two got $10 and costs, the sum total for the county treasury aggregating $43.50, all of which was promptly paid. Cider costs more than "red-eye" in a no-license town.

On Saturday a full car-load of donations from the citizens of Milton and vicinity was shipped over the St. Paul road to the Dakota sufferers. The contents included 64 sacks of flour, meal and graham, one barrel and five bags of potatoes, seven bags of corn, two bags of wheat, one bag of rye, four bags of beans, 150 bushels of barley, 200 bushels of oats, and 84 packages of clothing. If all towns do as well Dakota can buy us out in a year or two.

The remains of Mrs. Geo. Seaver, of Milwaukee, who died in that city on Friday last, were brought here Monday for burial. Brief services, conducted by Rev. Mr. Wilder, of Janesville, were held at the residence of L. S. Borden, at 10 o'clock. Deceased was a sister of Rev. Wm. Walker and Moses Walker, of this village, and leaves an aged husband but no children.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.
